How to convert string like this dd,dd,dd,dd,dd to a list like this : ["dd","dd","dd","dd"] A: >>> s = "dd,dd,dd,dd,dd" >>> [x for x in s.split(',') if x!=" "] ['dd', 'dd', 'dd', 'dd', 'dd'] A: If the text is always there and always in the same format (ie: "dd,dd,dd,dd,dd") then you can use `Regex r = new Regex(@"\w+,\w+,\w+,\w+,\w+"); var results = r.Matches(s); string[] mystr = new string[results.Count]; foreach (Match m in results) { mystr[m.Index] = m.Value; }` This will give you: `mystr = {"dd", "dd", "dd", "dd", "dd"}` If you want to turn that into a list of strings: `List list = new List(); foreach (Match m in results) { list.Add(m.Value); }` EDIT: To make sure it will work across different languages - just add this: `Regex r = new Regex(@"\w+", RegexOptions.IgnoreCase);` Otherwise it might not work on some non-English languages. BUENA VISTA, Ind. – The Indiana Pacers have agreed to a two-year deal with guard Gary Neal, General Manager Kevin Pritchard announced today. Neal (6-6, 194, University of Texas, 2004-05) has spent the past four seasons with the Washington Wizards, most recently averaging 4.4 points in 82 games (0.3 ppg) last season. He also appeared in 11 playoff games, recording
