One of the most important things you need in the workplace is a suitable place where you can get some productive work done. Sometimes though, it's hard to carve out that special nook or corner in the house or the office. The solution is to pack up your desk, invest in an ergonomic chair, and create your own personal space at home or the office. This also lets you have the assurance that your workspace will not suffer unpleasant vibrations from nearby machines, belts and other equipment you have no control over. By setting up your own home or work environment, you help yourself get more productive and efficient, and you don't need to waste time on searching for a place to work. When you can work within your comfort zone, you're free to focus on the job that needs to be done and experience your utmost efficiency. If you're looking to set up a more efficient home or office space, this is the right time to start. We're very proud to announce that Algol - The GUI Desktop Environment - is growing up and will soon be a full-blown project. Basically, the whole system is under development, and we only need to take all the pieces which are ready and incorporate them. In the early 20th century, the track became a phenomenon, but where did it come from and what was the effect on society? It's a fact that in the 21st century, we are living in a mobile society, and thanks to the car, big cities in the countryside have become very isolated. Many old trains have been neglected and are now breaking down, contributing to the fact that railways are disappearing. But what about the future? What will the tracks of tomorrow look like? In this artbook, you will discover the different tracks of the future, such as the ones you can visit or design with GRAIL. You will even have the opportunity to design and manufacture your own train model. GRAIL'S DESIGN: THE PATH OF THE FUTURE
